Notes From The Studio

Pat has made the transition into his new studio space and is settling into his new location on Bay Street in Berlin, MD. This space provides the perfect studio setting with mid-afternoon sunlight pouring in through the windows. Currently, Pat is working on a series of 90 paintings. This series will allow Pat to experiment with tone as he continues to shape his new works. His new series will capture settings of his native Eastern Shore, as well as, landscapes from his travels to the Carolina's. Come by and see his new works as well as old favorites. The gallery is open by appointment and by chance. See you soon!

Did You Know?

Pat's gallery is now located at 4 Bay Street (across from Berlin Town Hall). Here you can find a selection of his original artwork, prints, limited edition prints and note cards. The new space provides display area for showcasing his artwork as well as a perfect setting for his studio space.
